

Katherine Ourfalian, MD

Education and Training

Pediatric Residency

Newark Beth Israel Medical Center, Newark NJ – June 2017 to June 2020

Doctor of Medicine

St George's University School of Medicine, Grenada, West Indies – May 2017

Master of Biomedical Sciences

University of Medicine and Dentistry of NJ

Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences, Newark NJ – December 2011

Bachelor of Science in Biology

Rutgers, the State University of NJ, New Brunswick NJ – June 2010

Certifications and Licensure

Licensure: New Jersey Medical License - active

Certifications: PALS, NRP, BLS

Professional Affiliations

American Academy of Pediatrics – 2017 to present

Research Experience

Impedence Profiles of Human Breast Cancer Cells: Relationships with Genotypes and Clinical Behavior, UMDNJ NJ Medical School Dept of Pathology - June 2011

Professional Experience

Cytology Prep Technician

Department of Pathology - Englewood Hospital, Englewood, NJ - 2013

Physical Science Aid: Forensics Team

US Customs and Border Protection, NY Laboratory, Newark, NJ – 2009 - 2012

Languages Spoken

- Armenian – fluent